

Ms. Arroyo nominated Alexa Aikin

Alexa works very hard and she never gives up. She works very well with her classmates and does her best to include everyone. She helps her classmates when they need it, and makes sure they understand 100%. She is always very respectful and very kind, she walks in everyday with a smile. She's a great student.

Ms. Arroyo nominated Ciro Lombardo

Ciro is a great example of what it is to be a Guerin Student. He's kind, hard-working, and very positive. Since day one, he has worked hard to be a good example for his classmates and to be a good student. He helps his classmates whenever it is necessary and always wants to be challenged. He is always very respectful of myself and his classmates. Everyday he comes to class ready to work and to succeed. He is a great student of the month.

Ms. Lombardo nominated Sabrina Soto

I do not have Sabrina this year but I feel she would be an IDEAL candidate for student of the month. Her respectful and courteous nature and kindness to all is outstanding. She is very positive and always laughing and smiling. It was great seeing this enthusiasm in Guerin's rendition of Little Shop of Horrors. She is an outstanding actress and I am looking forward to watching her grow in the years to come.

Ms. Konrath nominated Matt Gallagher

Matt recently helped out the admissions office with a project and not only did he willingly agree to participate, he was a great asset to the task at hand. He was a great team player and offered valuable input to the process! In addition to this occasion, Matt is always friendly and shows enthusiasm and is a wonderful role model - in the classroom, on the playing field, and in school activities. GCP is lucky to have been Matt's choice for high school!

Ms. Giacotto nominated Chandler Jahnke

Because of Chandler's willingness to share her personal story, the GP community not only gets to enjoy a "Purple" dress down day for Worldwide Epilepsy awareness, but the faculty and staff learned about first aid and advocacy, which Chandler has lobbied for in Springfield, Illinois to have new bills passed to support families affected by Epilepsy.

Ms. Osgood nominated Eric Si

I have been pleased to watch Eric's increased responsibility and hard work this semester. He comes to class everyday prepared to learn and contribute. He doesn't have to be prodded to do the right thing; he just does it. This is a quality every teacher loves to see.

Mr. Springbrunn nominated Connie McNulty

Connie has been a member of the String Ensemble for four years. In addition to being an excellent musician she is also a wonderful person. She can always be counted on to help out in any situation, including special events that happen on evenings and/or weekends. Her leadership in the classroom is invaluable and she brings a smile to everything she does.

Mr. Choi nominated Mike Yniguez

Michael is part of the STEM II class. Michael is a dedicated student that rises to the challenges that I have put forth in the projects I have assigned. In his group Michael is able to take charge and takes on a leadership role in his group when forging on with the assignments. He does not hesitate to assist other classmates when they are struggling with a particular project. Michael always come to class eager to lean and complete the various projects given to him.
